NEW TREATY PLAN AIMS AT HARMONY

Though Final Agreement Is Obscure, Leaders Predict Early Vote on Article X

LODGE SPONSORS MOVE

Democrats Look on Substitute With Apparent Suspicion and Decline Comment

Washington, March 12. — A substitute for the Lodge resolution to Article X, which has stood unaltered for many weeks as the storm center of the peace treaty controversy, was proposed in the senate today by its author, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader.

The move, described by the Republican managers, as a step toward harmony and compromise, at first led the senate in an opposite direction by starting a discussion whether the new draft was weaker in its terms than the old. The mild reservationists backed by most of the Republican membership, said it was not. The Republican irreconcilables said it was and served notice they would not help adopt it as they did the original. The Democrats, keeping silent, studied the proposal with apparent suspicion and withheld any decision as to what they would do.

Final Agreement Still Beckoned.

As a result the possibilities of a final agreement remained as beclouded as ever and party leaders revived their prediction of an early vote on Article X. It had been hoped to reach a roll call today, but tonight no one was predicting action before Monday or Tuesday.

Characterizing the proposed changes as "the terms of a Republican capitulation" to the White House, Senator McCormick of Illinois led in the attack of the Republican irreconcilables. "A set of wassal words" was the way Senator Brandegee, Republican of Connecticut, described the compromise proposal, while Senator Knox, Republican of Pennsylvania, asserted it would leave upon the United States the moral obligation for which President Wilson has contended.

In general form the new resolution follows the language worked out by Senator Watson of Indiana for the Republicans, and Senator Simmons of North Carolina for the Democrats in their compromise negotiations. For this language, 30 Democratic votes are understood to have been promised, but several last minute changes in wording, made by Senator Lodge and Senator Watson before the reservation was presented, was held to have invalidated the Democratic pledge and a new canvass had not been completed tonight.

Republican Opinion Is Divided.

On the Republican side the defection was not confined to the irreconcilables alone, Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, who had voted for ratification with the original resolution, declaring on the floor that he never would take the substitute and Senator Wadsworth of New York telling his party leaders he could not see wherein they had improved on their original measure.

The Republican leaders insisted, however, that they could hold at least 30 votes in line, and the Democrats who favored the substitute hoped to deliver more than 30 from their side. It takes 64 to ratify.

In presenting the substitute, Senator Lodge declared it did not alter in any respect the substance of the reservation or weaken the denial of the nation's obligation under Article X. He made the move, he said, because he did not feel justified in insisting on a mere matter of phraseology.

Senator Smith of Georgia, who had supported the original reservation, declared himself for the substitute, and Senator McKellar of Tennessee, who had stood consistently with administration forces, announcing his opposition to the new proposal. It was understood, however, that Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the administration leader, objected to the substitute as he had to the Watson-Simmons draft, and would make an effort to line enough Democrats to prevent ratification should the substitute be adopted.

Irreconcilables Are Surprised.

Senator Lodge's presentation of the substitute apparently took the irreconcilables by surprise and, aside from their declarations on the floor, there were many private expressions of their dissatisfaction. They have constantly and successfully exerted pressure during the bipartisan negotiations and during the Watson-Simmons negotiations to prevent any modification of the original Lodge reservation, and until today they apparently believed they had convinced him that he should not do so.

As a final stand, the substitute represented the result of long consultation by the Republican leaders, in which Senator Lodge and Senator Watson are understood to have had the advice of Elihu Root, former secretary of state. It was indicated, however, that attempts might be made to amend it on the floor and everyone admitted that in view of the unsettled situation and the even balance of votes in the senate, the outlook contained many possibilities.

MUCH SHIPPING SAVED BY SUBMARINE DRIVES

Accurate Account of All Underwater Craft, at Sea Was Kept, Sims Declares

Washington, March 12. — More shipping was saved by keeping track of German submarines and routing vessels clear of them than by any other single measure Rear Admiral Sims today told the senate investigating committee.

The admiral's statement was in support of his charge that the navy department had a "fundamental misconception of the problem of defending home waters in keeping American naval forces on this side of the Atlantic rather than by giving wholeheartedly and vigorous co-operation to the allies."

"Actual experience has shown," the witness continued, "that we could depend upon keeping reasonably accurate track of all submarines at sea. We were certain that we never would have to deal with more than one or two submarines at a time on our own coast and it was possible to do a great deal toward providing for the safety of shipping in our own waters without the use of any antisubmarine craft at all."

Admiral Sims presented cablegrams announcing the departure from Germany of the first raider for the American coast sent more than three weeks before the vessel appeared in American waters. The messages he read, were remarkable for the accuracy with which every move of the enemy was foretold, adding that they were founded on absolute information obtained by the British admiralty. They proved "the soundness of his original recommendation to the department that all available forces should be concentrated in European waters."

Cuvillier, Democrat of New York, who introduced the resolution asking for an investigation of the Anti-Saloon league activities. The suit is based "on statements made by Mr. Anderson and circulated throughout the state regarding Mr. Freeman's character," Mr. Cuvillier said.

William D. Finlay of New York is attorney for Mr. Freeman. It was announced, and he will request that the action be tried in Schoharie county.

speculation as to whether President Wilson, now that the Republican modifications have taken definite form, might not take some step to inform the Democratic senators, as he has done in the past, of his attitude toward the substitute. It was said the Democratic leaders, however, that they would make an effort to ascertain his views and that they had no knowledge of any intention on his part to make them known either publicly or privately.

MINERS REFUTE 'WALKOUT' TALK

Possibility That Work Will Be Suspended on Expiration of Contracts, Is Remote

RELATIONS ARE GOOD

Union Leaders Look for a Satisfactory Adjustment of Demands by March 31

New York, March 12. — There is little possibility that there will be a suspension of work in the anthracite coal fields March 31 when the present contract between miners and operators expires, international vice president of the United Mine Workers.

Murray made this statement tonight at the close of the second day's session of the subcommittee of operators and miners appointed to draw up a new wage agreement. Declaring that negotiations are proceeding "satisfactorily," Murray continued, "I've every reason to believe that the demands of the miners will be adjusted satisfactorily by March 31. Should the negotiations go beyond that date we will be without a contract, but it is quite probable that some sort of an agreement will be arranged to keep the men at work."

"The feeling between the operators and miners in the conference was better last year than in previous years. No bitterness nor hostility has developed."

Mr. Murray said that the demands of the miners for a 60 per cent increase, a five-day week and a six-hour day have not been discussed. Notice has been served on operators that the union's demand for a "closed shop" and the "checkoff" system must be met.

The mine workers, it was stated, claimed to represent the large majority of miners in the anthracite region and insist that as the union has served its "apprenticeship," it must be recognized by a "closed shop" contract. On the ground that a hard coal diggers benefit from the wage agreement negotiated by the union the United Mine Workers are demanding that all miners in the field be members of the organization and that their dues be collected through the "checkoff" system.

Although the operators have not expressed their stand regarding the "open shop" and "checkoff" system, it is understood that they will vigorously oppose these clauses in the anthracite workers demands. They already have indicated that one of their arguments will be that the state laws of Pennsylvania makes the "checkoff" illegal.

Await President Wilson's Word.

Washington, March 12. — In all quarters concerned over the bituminous controversy a disposition was evinced tonight to await President Wilson's word before taking any action.

The majority report arising from the split in the commission appointed last fall to make a settlement was at the White House, but the minority report of John P. White, miners' representative on the commission, still was uncompromised. Neither of the documents, it was said at the White House, would be made public until the President determined whether Mr. White and his assistant, Henry M. Robinson, the commission chairman and public representative upon it, and Rembrandt Teal, the operators' representative, could reconcile their views.

John L. Lewis, President, and other officials of the Mine Workers' union on the ground, kept in close touch with the situation today, but refrained from comment. It was made apparent, however, that the organization would not move until the President reached his determination of the issue. Representative Robinson had left Washington for his home in California and Mr. Teal had returned to New York, leaving Mr. White the only member on the ground.

The majority report recommends that the men be given a 25 per cent increase in wages, including the 14 per cent awarded them by former Fuel Administrator Garfield, and that local differences in pay and allowances between different mining districts be referred to another commission. Mr. White will recommend that the increase be fixed at approximately 25 per cent. The only factor regarded as serious in the differences is the hour schedule. The original demand of the mine workers was for a 20-hour week, a 50 per cent increase in wages and local adjustment of differences arising in and between districts.

AVIATORS BREAK ICE JAM.

Port Jervis, N. Y., March 12. — The ice jam in the Susquehanna river, extending from this town to Harpers-Grace at the river's mouth, finally succumbed today to the heavy bombardment from airplanes of the last three days combined with the influence of mild weather, and passed out into Chesapeake bay. It is believed that the dangerous flood menace to this town has been removed, and the citizens are planning a banquet to the army aviators in appreciation of their work.

ASKS PEOPLE TO BACK RECONSTRUCTION PLAN

Governor Smith Seeks Support of Measures He Believes Will Better Conditions

Syracuse, March 12. — Governor Alfred E. Smith today made a direct appeal to the people for the support of his program for the reconstruction of the state government which has encountered opposition in the legislature and for the other measures which he believes makes for the betterment of conditions in New York state. It was his first upstate trip in his campaign to crystallize public sentiment behind the things he believes are necessary.

The governor addressed an audience of women Democrats late today, was seated at a dinner given by the reconstruction committee of the chamber of commerce, which was non-partisan in character, and tonight addressed a gathering of business men in which he outlined changes he advocates in the state government.

One effect of these changes would be to centralize authority in the executive, making him responsible for the proper conduct of state government, making the governor's term four years and reducing the number of elective offices; another would permit him to establish a budget system. Governor Smith claimed that under the present system an executive is handicapped by division of authority and restriction.

In his address to the women Democrats, the governor advocated adoption of the following measures:

Legislation to make school teaching more attractive financially; completion of the barge canal and terminals, development of water power for state benefit; minimum wage laws, eight-hour day for women; better care of the insane; compensation for industrial diseases; immediate relief of the housing situation; state control of the production and distribution of milk; abolition of the council of farms and markets.

A. canteens and post exchanges in France, during the war, it was announced today. A letter from John R. Mott, general secretary of the association, declared that the balance of the gift would be sent "as soon as we have received from overseas the final audited figures."

The money will be held as a trust fund for five years in accordance with the expressed preference of the donor, the legion stated. It will be invested in "safe securities" pending the formal appointment of the Fletcher American National bank of Indianapolis as trustee. The income from the principal will be used "for the benefit of disabled former service men or for work in connection with the National Americanization commission of the legion. It was added.

BROADWAY SEES DARING ROBBERY

Bandits Hold New York Theatergoers at Bay While They Loot Jewelry Stores

MAKE CLEVER ESCAPE

One Robber Dashes Through a Subway Air Hole Guarded by a Red Light, To Tracks

New York, March 12. — While Broadway tonight was crowded with theatre goers, three armed bandits crashed in the window of a jewelry store at 57th street, kept the crowds at bay with their revolvers until they had emptied the contents of several trays into their pockets and then escaped, shooting one pedestrian who attempted to stop them.

A few minutes later three men entered another Broadway jewelry store, a few blocks uptown and after throwing pepper in a clerk's eyes, grabbed some trays of jewelry and ran from the store. Two men alleged to be members of the trio were arrested after a chase.

Thousands Witness Robberies.

Both robberies, committed in the heart of the white light district, were witnessed by thousands of persons. Broadway was thrown into the greatest excitement as police reserves arrived on double quick and working on the theory that robberies were committed by two different bands raced up and down side streets and scoured subways for the four missing bandits.

In addition to the pedestrian who was shot, but not seriously injured, one other member of the crowd succeeded in getting his finger on a fugitive. He was rewarded by a crack on the wrist from a revolver but which caused his arm to fall helplessly to his side.

Proprietors of the two stores estimated that thousands of dollars worth of jewelry had been stolen.

The first robbery in which Schwartz Brothers were the victims, was engineered with the greatest daring. While rubbing elbows with passing pedestrians, one of the bandits slipped an iron bar through the handles of a door so that it could not be opened from the inside. Then a brick wrapped in cloth was hurled through a window.

Work Coolly Despite Mobs.

At the crash of falling glass, Frank Schwartz ran excitedly to the door and tried to pull it open as he shouted for help. The crowd also attracted by the glass smashed about the robbers, two of whom continued coolly at their task of raking diamonds and rubies out of the window, while the third member of the party kept the spectators at bay.

Seeing the crowds halt and form in a semi circle around the store, Patrolman Anthony Weigen came racing to the scene. Just as he arrived and began to fight his way through the excited throng, the robbers called it a day's work, packed the last of the gems into their pockets, parted company and started each for himself to carve a way through the human semi circle.

Then came gun play. Sighting a man break away from the crowd and dash up Broadway, Weigen with drawn revolver gave chase.

The crowds took to cover as they heard the crack of a revolver, but Weigen had missed his aim and the robber had sped on. In front of the fugitive was a subway air hole with the cover off and through this hole the bandit jumped to the subway tracks 15 feet below. He narrowly missed being struck by a passing train for the roar of its progress was heard on the street above a few seconds after the robber played his last card and won.

After reserves had assembled in full force and searched the subway from Forty-second street down and Thirty-fourth street up they found no trace of the daring bandit and were forced to admit that he had strolled to the nearest station and escaped.

Rings Worth $2,000 Missing.

The second robbery occurred in the store of Marcus Feldman between Forty-fifth street and Forty-sixth street, where theatre throngs are thickest.

Two rings valued at $755 and $2,450 were missing after the robbery. They were said by the police to have been found on the two men arrested on charges of robbery and felonious assault.

The prisoners gave their names as Vincent De Marco, a shipping clerk's helper, and Bartolo Scolla, a barber. Albert Anusiewicz, a clerk, was alone in the store when the bandits entered. He was asked to show the two rings and it was while he was doing so that the pepper was hurled into his eyes.

Then the pair dashed into the streets and Broadway picked up his cars at risk of robbers' bullets. Hundreds of men and women joined in the chase, while thousands more watched breathless.

Detectives engaged on the first robbery late tonight expressed belief that the bandits had desperately planned to use the subway air shaft as means of escape and had removed the cover and placed a red lantern on the sidewalk beside the hole.

After the three Schwartz brothers had closed their store they hurried up Broadway to Feldman's, their brother-

WILDE OPEN FAVORITE IN BOUT WITH MASON

Plucky Little Briton Is the Aggressor in All Except the Sixth Round

Ring Side, Coliseum, Toledo, O., March 12. — Although no referee's decision was given, the majority of sporting writers agreed that Jimmie Wilde, recognized flyweight champion of Great Britain proved his right to worldwide supremacy in his class in a 12-round bout here tonight when he decisively outpointed Frankie Mason of Fort Wayne, Indiana, aspirant to the championship.

Throughout the battle the plucky little Briton was the aggressor. He carried the fight in all but one round, the sixth, when Mason lured himself and put the Englishman on the defensive. Two of the rounds were even, the fourth and tenth.

The ring, which was 21 feet square, gave the little American plenty of room to jump away from the pressing Britisher. Mason started to bleed from the mouth early in the battle, but he wore a smile of confidence while the little Briton from the time he entered the ring seemed set and determined.

Time after time, Mason, urged on by his enthusiasts, attempted to break through the Britisher's guard, but the plucky little Briton feinted, shifted and retaliated with a right and left, chasing the American about the ring.

After the fight, referee Ed Smith declared never in his life had he seen a young fellow or any fighter who was so willing to carry or mix matters as Wilde. Smith was of the opinion that it was a very even match, but declared on the rules of the commission he was not at liberty to announce the winner.

BENNETT ALLEGES CONSPIRACY

"Many Groups of Names on Nominating Petitions Bear Suspicion," He Intimated.

New York, March 12. — Protests against the nominating petition of the regular organization candidates in three New York city districts for delegates at large from the state of New York to the Republican national convention were filed today by William M. Bennett, an independent candidate, who raised a question as to the legality of the petitions.

If the board of elections upholds the contention, the names of Chauncey M. Depew and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler will be among those left off the primary election ballot. There would be left only nominees of United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, presidential aspirant.

Bennett in his protest, contended the petitions were invalid because many signatures were not authenticated and "because many groups of names were apparently written by the same person."

TENDERLOIN RAISES FUND TO SILENCE "SQUEALERS"

New York, March 12. — Assistant District Attorney Smith who is conducting the grand jury investigation of alleged vice conditions in New York's far flung tenderloin stated tonight that it had been reported to him a "defense fund was being raised to silence" squealers to be called to testify against any police official found to be offering protection to undesirable resorts.

Mr. Smith made public a letter which he received today in which it was alleged that one policeman had been offered $10,000 by a "man asserted to be a captain." The letter asserted that another "higher up" who had "made over $100,000" in the last two years would give $20,000 to silence a "squealer."

POINDEXTER BEGINS CAMPAIGN

Troy, March 12. — Senator Miles A. PoinDEXTER of Washington fired the opening gun of his campaign in the east for the Republican presidential nomination here tonight, by linking up the adoption of the league of nations with the haunting of the red flag of the socialist internationale as very different methods to pursue to establish the condition of internatonalism, which both the supporters of the league of nations and the adherents of socialism advocate.

SERIOUS FLOODS FEARED.

Utica, March 12. — Rising water in the small streams in the vicinity of Utica and towns in the Mohawk valley gave cause for much anxiety throughout this section tonight and small floods were reported from many sections which presage floods of serious consequence.

FORTY-TWO MINERS MISSING.

Mexico City, March 12. — Forty-two of the 125 miners who were caught in the main shaft of the El Bordo mine at Pachuca, in the state of Hidalgo, were still unaccounted for late tonight, 24 hours after fire had broken out in the shaft.

The mine was sealed today for a period of 24 hours for the purpose of smothering the flames.

Law, to relate their experience and to warn him to be on guard, but to their dismay, they found that he, too, had been robbed.

The two robbers, according to the police, admitted that they met tonight in a Broadway restaurant, where they discussed plans for the robbery and on leaving took along pepper shakers

MISUSE OF BONUS ISSUE IS CHARGED

Support of Soldier Relief Legislation To Secure Votes Alleged by Witness

REAL RUMPUS ENSUES

Scale of Excess War Materials To Defray Expense of Soldier Relief Is Proposed

Washington, March 12. — The frank statement by a witness that members of congress would support soldier relief legislation in order to get votes, started a rumpus today in the house ways and means committee considering a multitude of bills dealing with the subject.

Frank P. Keech, a New York broker, formerly a lieutenant colonel in the inspector general's department, opposing compensation for former service men, declared some legislation might be expected because of political pressure. The inference that members would be persuaded through fear of losing votes was characterized by Chairman Fordney as an insult to the committee and congress.

Keech replied that his statement was not intended to be insulting, but that it was nevertheless true.

George M. Rushmore of New York city, a former sergeant, testified that soldiers did not consider the possible harm to government finances which might result from payment of a cash bonus. A great majority of those receiving money would spend it foolishly in six months, he said.

Rushmore, a member of the legion, said members of his post did not think the legion "ought to club congress into giving a bonus," but he added "it is only human to take if the government is willing to give it."

Urging a preferential grant to overseas men, Leonard Ormerod of Washington, who served as an enlisted man in the second division, said "The mental strain from being absolutely cut off from this country" made such soldiers deserve more than would be granted domestic troops. He thought a "small cash bonus would be better than bonds."

Martin E. DeGraft of Cleveland, Ohio, representing the World War veterans, urged passage of a bill carrying "not less than $300" and suggested some of the necessary funds might be raised from the sale of excess war materials.

NAME COLONEL RAND FOR NEW YORK QUIZ

Selection of Attorney Who Prosecuted Rae Tanzer Case Meets With Approval

New York, March 12. — Colonel William Rand, former assistant federal attorney, who prosecuted the Rae Tanzer case, today was appointed by Attorney General Newton to serve as counsel for the extraordinary grand jury which is investigating the district attorney's office. Colonel Rand tonight accepted the appointment and announced that he would confer with the jury tomorrow.

The appointment of Colonel Rand, it was learned tonight, is satisfactory to Foreman Raymond Almiral of the jury.

In appointing Colonel Rand, attorney General Newton is said to have authorized him to employ any other assistant he may need for a thorough investigation. It was reported that Leonard Wallstein, counsel for the Citizens Union and former Assistant District Attorney Royal H. Weller, might be selected.

It was said tonight that in its conference with Colonel Rand tomorrow the jury probably would decide whether it would continue to sit in criminal court buildings. Complaints of a possible "deadlock" previously have come from the jury room.

FLEE FROM FLOOD.

Syracuse, March 12. — Hundreds of families in the southern section of the city and Onondaga valley were forced to flee from their homes tonight in the worst flood in the city's history. Waters pouring from the high watershed south of the city turned Onondaga creek into a raging torrent three-quarters of a mile wide in some places. The waters are steadily rising tonight and in the lowlands reach to the second floor of houses.

INDIANS WANT VOTE.

Brantford, Ont., March 12. — Votes for Indians were spurned today by the council of Six Nations, representing tribes which occupy a large reservation near here. The council decided to protest to the Dominion government against compulsory enfranchisement. The Six Nations, the council sets forth, owe no allegiance to Canada and desire no voice in its government because it treats them as "aliens of the British crown."

RATE FOR CALL MONEY RISES TO 15 PERCENT

Flurry Proves Dominant Factor in Day's Irregular Stock Market Dealings

New York, March 12. — International credit and an unexpected flurry in call money were the dominant factors of today's very irregular stock market in which the early trading was enlivened by further operations of bull pools.

Foreign exchange manifested a reactionary trend from the outset, the British rate adding six cents to yesterday's late reversal on specific details of reports that the gold movement from London to this country was already in progress.

Call money opened at seven percent, thereby raising the hope of those who were apprehensive that current heavy tax payments would create stringent conditions over the week-end.

These hopes were dashed later, when the rate rose steadily to 15 percent, that quotation prevailing at the heavy close.

The bulk of today's dealings centered again in motors and their subsidiaries, oils, equipments and rails. Extreme advances of two to ten points in these issues were finally reduced or altogether dissipated, heavy selling attending the movements of money.

Conspicuous features of the early advance and subsequent decline were General Motors, in which a 10-point gain was followed by a 15 1/2 point reaction, involving a net loss of 1 1/2 points, and Crucible Steel, which forfeited a substantial gain and more besides.

Among other industrials and specialties, the swing from high to low ranged from two to six points, losses of one to three points prevailing at the end, when the transportations also yielded.

In the bond market irregularity featured the trading in foreign issues, the Liberty group showing comparative steadiness. Changes among domestic rails and industrials were nominal on smaller offerings.

Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

It is an advantage to be AHEAD. Followers are mostly good advertising for their leader. Greatest leadership is attained by advancement of Health, Happiness and Usefulness. OTSEGO COUNTY NEWS

MILFORD TO HAVE PARK

AT A PUBLIC MEETING HELD AT THE HOME OF GEORGE I. WILBER.

Contribution of Former Residents of Otsego County, New York, to the purchase of a public park in the village of Milford, N. Y., is the subject of a public meeting held at the home of George I. Wilber, at Milford, N. Y., on Saturday evening, March 12.

It is well known that Milford has always had a warm spot in its heart for this village. The village of Milford is the fullest degree represented by our citizens. For some time the matter of purchasing lands for a public park had been under consideration here and about two months ago Mr. Weatherly personally circulated a subscription paper among the people of the village for the purpose of raising the sum of $100,000 of which $7500 was to be used for the purchase of four acres of land from L. B. Sweet & Son to be used for the purpose of the park and the balance to be used for the purchase of the land for a public playground and other improvements.

At a recent interview with Mr. Wilber, President Weatherly mentioned his efforts to secure a park for Milford village but without success.

On Saturday evening, March 12, a public meeting was held at the home of George I. Wilber, at Milford, N. Y., for the purpose of raising the sum of $100,000 for the purchase of a public park in the village of Milford, N. Y.

The money subscribed by citizens and such sums as may be secured later will be used to lay out the grounds and to construct suitable and convenient drives. It is planned to lay out a baseball diamond, tennis court and swimming pool, a stream which flows across the plot affording sufficient water for the latter. The entire property will be under the direction of the trustees of the village.

and control of the trustees of the village of Milford or of the board of park commissioners which may be named by them. Therefore the village has had no park of its kind and general satisfaction is expressed over the outcome.

Alfred to President Weatherly and to Mr. Wilber the thanks of the village are extended to the owner for the personal attention which he has given the project from the first and to Mr. Wilber for a generosity which enables this corporation to have a park adequate in size, admirably located and which will for all time keep in mind the identity of him long after his name is no longer known.

AGED OTSEGO WOMAN DIED

Mrs. Harriet Bundy Passes Away. Thursday of Infirmary of Old Age.

Otsego, March 12. — Mrs. Harriet Bundy, one of Otsego's oldest residents, passed away last evening at 8 o'clock at her home in this village. She had been in failing health for some time due to the infirmities of old age and her passing was not unexpected. Her funeral service will be held at the home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. C. C. Jones, pastor of the local Methodist church, will officiate and the body will be laid to rest in Evergreen cemetery.

Harriet Whitney was born in Sidney on August 24, 1836, a daughter of Henry and Mary Whitney. She remained at her home there until her marriage to Henry Bundy on Sept. 19, 1850, when they came to Otsego and settled down on a farm near here. Mr. Bundy died 30 years ago and since that time Mrs. Bundy had lived in the village. She was a woman held in the highest esteem and had many friends who will mourn her passing. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The only near surviving relatives are two sisters, Mrs. Josephine Whitney and Mrs. Emerette Brown.

INDIAN'S TRIBUTE TO MOTHER

Red Skinned Fighter in World War Proves Worthy Descendant of Race of Chiefs.

Wounded With Many Arrows. Is an Indian living in South Dakota.

According to an Indian custom, the first thing an Indian mother sees or says after her child is born may be chosen as the infant's name. The name of his birth in April 1891, the mother saw a warrior who had been wounded by many arrows; hence the name given to the new born child. Entering the world war in the army of the great white father at Washington, the first thought of this copper-skinned descendant of a race of chiefs was of his mother, whom he named as his benefactor in his $10,000 government war risk insurance policy.

The mother's name is Susan Love. The war and she lives at Walpole, S. D. She was the first to respond to the call of the United States for soldiers to fight for their mother who was glad when the name of her son was chosen. She was a woman of wonderful strength of the past, through which she had passed. And she realized that she was a descendant of a warrior who had been wounded by many arrows; hence the name given to the new born child.

O. H. S. BOYS PLAY BRILLIANTLY

BUT ARE UNABLE TO DEFEAT THE SCHENECTADY QUINSET, WHICH CARRIES OFF GAME, 21-18.

Contest, Fast and Clean Throughout. Is Witnessed by Record-Breaking Crowd of Fans—Richfield Springs Girls' Team Defeated by O. H. S., 15 to 2.

In one of the most brilliant games ever seen on the local court, the Schenectady High school basketball team defeated the Otsego High school quintet 21 to 18 last night. With a record breaking crowd looking on, the Otsego boys tried desperately to carry off the honors and nearly succeeded.

The game started off with a rush which continued all the way through. Schenectady got the first held basket but Otsego soon came back with one, and thus the continued for the first ten minutes. Then Schenectady's guard pulled off a little exhibition of rapid-fire playing which put the visitors well in the lead, the score at the end of the first half standing 19 to 7 in their favor.

In the last frame, the local boys did some wonderful work and put a tight clamp on their opponents. Schenectady making only one basket in this round. Not only did they hold back Schenectady but they did some scoring too, more than doubling the points they had at the end of the first half. Captain Perry was Otsego's star player, he making all but two of the points for his side. Lamasney and Beard of Schenectady tied for honors.

The High school gymnasium was a mass of cheering and shouting humanity as the game went off. Cheer leaders with huge megaphones yelled themselves hoarse while noise making devices of all descriptions helped add to the din. The Otsego-Schenectady game always is the game that is most looked forward to during the school year and this year had been no exception. For the past few weeks the "big game" had been the chief topic of conversation among the students of O. H. S. and Manager Taylor gave his squad a gruelling course of practice games during the few days preceding the game.

Although Otsego was defeated there is some solace in the fact that the score was close. Schenectady has never been defeated this season and usually has had its own way but last night the visitors had to play with all their might to win. Otsego's star guard was unable to be on the floor thus greatly handicapping the O. H. team. Taken all in all, O. H. S. has a right to be proud of the fine battle her sons made and although victory was not attained the defeat was an honorable one and the vanquished took it in the right spirit.

There will be only one more game this season on the home court. On April 2 the Binghamton Central High school team comes here for a game. A few weeks ago, O. H. S. was defeated at the hands of this team on the latter's court, and Manager Taylor's men will make a hard fight to win. There are two more out-of-town games with Cobleskill and Herkimer.

Following is the lineup and score of last night's contest:

In a preliminary game the O. H. S. girls defeated the Richfield Springs High School girls team 13 to 2. The contest took place after the main battle, however, as the visitors were delayed in arriving. All the way through the Otsego girls had the own way and Richfield did not make a single field basket. The game started for Otsego, while Thurston and Richfield's two for 1 points.

AGE-OLD BUILDING MATERIAL

"Pise," in Use for Many Centuries, Is Merely a Simple Form of Concrete.

What is pise? The word, which in its complete form is written pise de terre, betrays a French origin and, from its general appearance, might well suggest some affinity with the world of art. These preliminary impressions, however, will be found misleading. There is nothing peculiarly French in pise dwellings, though they are common enough in some parts of France and reference to them abounds in French literature of the eighteenth century.

The word itself, traced to its Latin origin, apparently means nothing more artistic than "battered." Perhaps the simplest definition of pise is provided by Pliny the Elder, who calls it "earth battered between boards," meaning by boards a form such as may be used for concrete in construction work.

The Roman sage adds that it was an old and well-tried system of building and remarks that Hannibal used the material for watch towers on the tops of hills in Spain during his campaign. Who knows whether it was not also in use when Cheops built his Great Pyramid for there are prehistoric pise buildings in New Mexico and Arizona which some say, date back almost to that period?

Certainly history cannot trace the system to its origin and the pise dwellings now visible in France, Spain, America, the British colonies and elsewhere may give no complete indication of the extent to which this material was employed in other centuries.

THE HOUSING SITUATION.
There is no question that the most urgent of present conditions in Oneonta is not that of unemployment or of wages, but the housing situation. Everybody who wants work in the city can get it. He has only to come in from country or village or another city and make his wants known and he will be sure to find something to do, and that promptly and as for wages, there is practically nothing to worry about, since there is nothing which either man or woman can do which does not bring liberal compensation. But, once a man from another town has secured work, he is up against the further proposition of "Where shall I live?"
If he, being single, desires board and lodging only, the trouble is bad enough but not so serious; if a man with a family, he has his troubles mapped out for him, and there are instances not a few where men have for a long time boarded in the city, waiting for opportunity to secure a suitable home.

Under such circumstances it is perhaps worth while for the business man of Oneonta, and whoever desires that the city shall grow and prosper, to take into consideration certain self-evident facts, one of which is that there are practically no houses to be secured now in the city, another that local industries depend on ability to secure workmen, and a third that new corporations, which the city is always looking for, cannot be expected under such conditions to develop. If, therefore, the town is to see a steady increase in population, there must be houses as an antecedent both to further development of present industries and to the establishment of new ones.

The question is without a doubt a serious one, perhaps no worse in Oneonta than elsewhere, but in any case of importance enough to demand consideration, and it is, moreover, not entirely one-sided. While there has been advance of rents in Oneonta, they have not in general been so great as to justify a charge of profiteering, particularly when increase of sales values, and of expenditures for maintenance are taken into account. The general complaint has been, not that rents were exorbitant, but that houses could not be had, and appeals to owners of vacant realty to build for rental purposes have been met by the not unjustifiable reply from a financial standpoint, that the present prices for labor, and for all kinds of materials, added to the fact that it is practically impossible to secure even such common, and formerly cheap things as shingles, lath and nails, do not justify building at this time.

Whether this plan will make a general appeal, one cannot know until it is at least presented and tried out. At any rate it deserves consideration, and perhaps from the standpoint of maintaining the values of present investments. If from the lack of homes men do not come to any city, industries may not improbably move to communities where houses can be secured.
Workmen of necessity follow the work, and it might well be that through failure to provide dwelling places for new-comers, there would in the end not be demand for these now existing, so that through unwillingness to keep a town thrifty and growing, there might be lost a portion even of what one has.

THREE SETS OF RESOLUTIONS

Adopted This Week at Annual Meeting of County Pomona Grange at Fly Creek—In favor Forestry and Highway Measures—Oppose Milk Control Measure.

At the semi-annual meeting of the Oneonta County Pomona grange, held at Fly Creek on Tuesday of this week, three sets of resolutions of especial interest to residents of the county and in particular to farmers and dairymen, were presented and adopted. The resolutions are as follows:

Forestry in Oneonta.

Oneonta county has, according to statistics, more than 20,000 acres of idle land, best adapted to the planting of forest trees. The people of the county have awakened to the fact that these lands should be planted to such trees. It is reported that through the efforts of the Oneonta County Improvement association, orders for more than 60,000 trees have been placed with the Conservation Commission for planting.

Therefore, be it resolved, that it is in the sense of Oneonta Pomona grange, in session at Fly Creek on March 9, 1920, that the planting of such forest trees be encouraged by the state by giving trees to individuals and corporations.

Be it further resolved that our State Senator Adon T. Brown and our Assemblyman Allen J. Bloomfield be requested by our secretary, Ella L.
Chamberlain, to work for the passage of the free tree bill, introduced by Assemblyman Everett of St. Lawrence county, and.

Be it further resolved, that our representatives be requested to work for the revision of the bill, setting five acres as the minimum territory to be planted, instead of fifty.

Better Rural Highways.

Since the construction of a system of improved highways throughout the rural sections of New York state will be used by urban and rural folks alike, and since the construction of such highways will result in an increased production of food products which will be marketed at a less cost, therefore,
Be it resolved, that Pomona grange of Oneonta county request Senator Adon
P. Brown and Assemblyman Allen J.
Bloomfield to work for the passage of the Knight and Lowman bills now under consideration by the legislature.

Oppose Thompson Milk Bill.

The experience of the past has proven conclusively that the only fair and satisfactory method of determining the price of food products is that based upon supply and demand and that the principle of arbitrary control and price fixing is unsound.

The Thompson milk bill now before the legislature of New York state would control the milk produced by the dairyman of the state, without controlling the feed industry or labor, both of which are dominant factors in milk production, therefore,

Be it resolved, that Pomona grange of Oneonta county go on record as being opposed to the bill, and.

Be it further resolved, that the secretary be instructed to request Senator Adon P. Brown and Assemblyman Allen J. Bloomfield to use their influence in opposition to the bill.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

Another Stabilizing Factor.

Business may now go ahead expanding, enlarging, increasing its efficiency and the value of its service to the people free from apprehension that it will be declared illegal so long as it refrains from committing the acts that are specifically forbidden in the restrictive acts and commission and departmental regulations which now almost completely cover the field of condemned business methods.
Everything, like the railroad act and this decision, which tends to stabilize conditions and permit development of industry and business, puts us just so much farther on our way in returning to the settled conditions which existed before the great world eruption.—[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" Made Complete Cure of Stomach Trouble

MRS. FRANK W. WALLACE

Moultonville, Carroll Co., N. H.

"An account I read about 'Fruita-lives' or Fruit Liver Tablets in one of our newspapers prompted me to try this remedy

I was all run down and work was burdensome owing to indigestion and fullness, due to gas on my stomach which caused me to belch

7 good deal. My heart seemed to be affected.

It was two years ago that I was in this condition and began the use of 'Fruit a lives'. Even though the trouble had been of a few years standing, the use of 'Fruit-a-lives'

proved the very remedy I required

I was freed of the indigestion, which I attributed to my heart; and I can conscientiously recommend 'Fruit-

a-lives' as a remedy of merit."

CITY BILLIARD PARLOR SOLD.

Frank Stevenson and Son, Robert, Take Possession of Business Today.

Albert J. Brown, who for the past 15 years has conducted the City Billiard parlor at 18 Broad street, yesterday completed negotiations for its sale to Frank Stevenson and his son, Robert. Possession will be given this morning, but Mr. Brown will have charge of the business for a few days until the Stevensons are ready to occupy.

Frank Stevenson, the father, has but recently sold a coal business, which he had been conducting for several years at Paoli, Pa., and probably will move to this city as soon as he can find a house. The son has been employed on the D. & H. here for the past few months since his return from war service in France. They plan to conduct the billiard parlor along the same lines as Mr. Brown for the present at least, but later may make some needed improvements.

Mr. Brown has not yet made any plans for the future, but is considering moving to Wayne county to reside. He has conducted the business alone for the past two years, but previous to that time his son, D. D. Brown, the well-known baseball manager, was in partnership with him. "D. D." now is an employee at the D. & H. shops.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOTES.

Secretary Walter Receives Letter of Regret from Prominent Executive.

Secretary Walter of the Oneonta Chamber of Commerce has received a letter from Roy S. Smith, executive manager of the Albany Chamber of Commerce, complimenting the Oneonta organization on the choice of speakers and the excellent menu at the Chamber of Commerce banquet held on March 5. He also expressed regret that he was unable to attend. Mr. Smith is probably one of the highest-paid Chamber of Commerce executives in the country.

A paper was recently received from Secretary Charles E. Westervelt of the Auburn, Maine, Chamber of Commerce, former secretary in Oneonta, which speaks of the extreme weather conditions in Auburn and surrounding territory. Newspaper reports state that all railroads and trolley line schedules were abandoned for several days.

Tuesday was declared a civic holiday in Auburn and the entire membership of the Auburn Chamber of Commerce turned out with picks and shovels to clear the trolley company's tracks of ice so that communications with the outlying sections could be established.

Women of Mooseheart Legion.

Another Tough Case.

The old man died alone in a shack and this when Uncle Sam and the state have made wise and safe laws to help me give people a chance to make good. If this old man had placed the measly sum of $10 with me each month, I would have safely rolled it up to $7,200.00 for him, he could have had the warmest and coziest room in a home of his own and the children would have brought grandpa his pipe and slippers. Well, I am still on the job, am thus safely rolling small amounts up to millions of dollars, for homes and farms, yet there are many old people like him. Take your choice. I am the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association.

TROLLEY OPEN TO MOHAWK

FORCE AFTER PERSISTENT AND HARD WORK GETS THROUGH DRIFTS.

Trains Moved Over Entire Road Yesterday Until Late Evening When Ice Blocks Road North of Jordanville—East End Track Covered With Water.

Battling against snow drifts on the north end that are the deepest the road has ever experienced and that permitted the workmen engaged in breaking out the road to seat themselves upon the feed and trolley wires, the trolley company succeeded yesterday morning at about 3 o'clock in forcing a snow plow through to Mohawk, opening the north end which had been blocked for days. Supt. Killen arrived home last night quite late, after having been continuously on the job above Richfield Springs since Wednesday morning, with General Manager Stone and a force of men.

During the day the road was open in its entire length, but last evening the water had become high north of Jordanville and had washed great quantities of ice upon the roadbed so that the car that left this city at 6:40 p. m. was unable to proceed farther than Jordanville. It returned to Richfield Springs for the night and if the weather becomes colder it will, if it is possible, clear the track of ice, proceed to Mohawk this morning and return on the time of the morning train from that place.

Elsewhere last evening trouble was also being experienced, surface water at several points having washed ice upon the tracks so that other cars were unable to proceed and unless colder weather follows there will be difficulty in operating today. While creek banks were full, no washouts had been reported late last evening.

In the city trouble was experienced also. The surface water poured down North Fifth and Sixth streets in such volume that it overran the tracks from Sixth street to Pine street on Main to such a depth that the cars after 3 o'clock could proceed no farther toward East End than Pine street. In an effort to get a car through the water it was short circuited and burned out, rendering it ill advised to make any further effort to operate the East End. The city line cars therefore for the remainder of the day operated between Pine street and Junction.

SERVICES CLOSE ON SUNDAY.

Special Evangelistic Meetings at Elm Park Church to End.

Announcement is made that the special evangelistic meetings which have been in progress at the Elm Park church under Evangelist VanHorne will close with the service on Sunday evening, at which service Mr. VanHorne will speak on "The Saddest Words of the Savior." Mr. VanHorne will go to his home in Binghamton, where Mrs. VanHorne, who came with him to assist in the work is ill, having gone home sick early in the week. Last evening Evangelist VanHorne gave a fine address following the opening services conducted by the children of the Sunday school, music being a feature. The attendance was considered very gratifying in view of the condition of the streets. There will be but one service today. This evening Mr. VanHorne will speak on "A Fool's Question—The Bible's Answer." Sunday morning, Mr. VanHorne's theme will be "He Left Nothing Undone."

Moose Carnival Increasingly Popular.

There was another large crowd at the Moose Carnival and Bazaar last night in Dreamland hall. The same amusements that prevailed on the opening night were indulged in last night, with the addition of several new concessions which arrived during the day and set up their booths in spaces around the hall. Dancing again was the most popular diversion, and old and young joined in trying out the new steps of the "light fantastic." The usual door prizes were distributed to the holders of the lucky numbers.

Two Prisoners Taken to Cooperstown.

Officer Simmons of the local police force accompanied two prisoners to Cooperstown yesterday and saw that they were safely confined in the county jail. The chief offender was George Sharby, who in default of $500 bail will be held in the jail until the next term of county court. He is charged with grand larceny in the second degree for stealing clothing from Max Greenberg's men's furnishing store on Main street. The other new "guest" at the Cooperstown institution is Roscoe Petrio, who will spend a 30-day term for illegal train riding.

Married at Binghamton.

Robert E. Blake and Miss Edna Livingston, both of this city, were married on Tuesday noon, March 2, at Binghamton. The wedding was a quiet one, and the couple were unattended. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tunis Livingston of Lower Chestnut street. They are making their home in this city. Mr. Blake being a fireman on the D. & H.

BOTH FAVOR UNION STATION

Delaware and Hudson Joins U. & D. in Approval of Continuance of Present Traffic Arrangements in Oneonta.

Indicating in the strongest possible manner a genuine willingness to afford every convenience to the traveling public and following close on the heels of a letter of similar purport from President Cuykendall of the Utter and Delaware railroad the following communication addressed to the Chamber of Commerce by F. P. Gutelius, vice president of the Delaware and Hudson company, will be read with mingled interest and satisfaction:

"I am in receipt of communication from you dated March 6th with reference to resolution passed at meeting of your Chamber of Commerce Monday, March 1st, with reference to continuing the present joint passenger and freight facilities of the Delaware and Hudson railroad and the Utter and Delaware railroad at Oneonta and to advise that it is the intention of the Delaware and Hudson railroad to negotiate with the Utter and Delaware railroad for a continuation of present method of handling traffic at that point and I sincerely trust that satisfactory contract may be arranged."

The above communication from Vice President Gutelius of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad company in connection with the letter of President Cuykendall of the Utter and Delaware railroad published in the Star of Friday is only additional evidence of the sincere desire on the part of these officials to do all that in their power lies to improve the local service, and convenience of our citizens. In addressing Messrs. Gutelius and Cuykendall, Secretary Walter stated that the memorial presented on behalf of the Oneonta Chamber of Commerce had the substantial backing of all the people of Oneonta and the traveling public as well. It is most gratifying to receive such a prompt and favorable response from these gentlemen, and our people will not be slow to show their appreciation. Since its inauguration the joint freight depot has been of incalculable benefit and convenience to our wholesale and retail shippers, and the use of a union passenger station has been applauded from the start.

Returns from Conference.

Secretary Lange again was at his desk in the Y. M. C. A. yesterday after a few days' trip to Niagara Falls, where he attended a conference of Railroad Y. M. C. A. secretaries of the Eastern states. There were 150 secretaries in attendance at the meeting, which was one of great interest and helpfulness to all welfare workers. Mr. Lange said. There was no set speeches, and the time was spent in informal conferences which were of far greater benefit than listening to speakers, no matter how illustrious the speakers might be.

During his stay at Niagara Falls, Secretary Lange visited the world-famous falls and on his return to Oneonta stopped over at Buffalo to visit some of his old friends in that city, where he was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work before coming to this city.

Workmen's Compensation Claims.

STREAMS NEAR OVERFLOWING.

Situation Much Less Threatening Last Evening with Much Snow Gone.

While it cannot be said that the danger is passed, the probability of a serious freshet that would cause great damage, has been materially lessened by the thaw of the last three days, much of the snow having disappeared from the city streets and from the adjacent hillsides and large spots of mother earth being seen in all directions. Streams of all sizes from the Susquehanna river down to the smallest brooks were fullbanked last night as evening approached and the temperature commenced to drop, checking what threatened to flood the city and cause much damage and no little inconvenience. Men in the employ of the street department were kept busy during the day along Silver and other creeks and in opening the catch basins. The streams were about to break over when the water was checked and the danger seemed less imminent.

City streets were filled with water and pedestrians had some difficulty in getting about even with the aid of rubber boots during the day and at nightfall it was a question. It had rained earlier in the day and much concern was felt. However, night saw a lessening of the water and the situation is considered very encouraging at midnight.

Reports from all sections in this vicinity were of much the same nature, much water but no serious damage having yet resulted, so far as could be learned.

GARDNER'S FOOT NOTES

Saturday March 13, 1920 No. 4

Turned soles are generally used in the production of shoes that are made to portray style. Turned soles give a graceful, fashionable finish to feminine footwear. They are much better appearing and more closely fitting than welt soles. They are primarily made for effect more than for service.

Shoes with welt soles should be selected for practical reasons because they retain their shape much longer than turned soles, as they are more substantial. Welt soles can also be repaired more easily than the turned soles.

It is well to know this distinction between welt and turned soles, so that in purchasing shoes you can select the sole best adapted to your needs.

When shoes require new soles, it is advisable to have them repaired at once, as a worn sole will soon effect the appearance of the upper. Heed the condition of the soles of your shoes so that you will secure the maximum service from them.

The Gardner sales organization is qualified to intelligently answer all questions regarding the care of shoes.

EXTEND INCOME TAX PERIOD

State, However, Will Collect Interest For Period Between March 15 and 31.

Albany, March 12.—Time for filing state personal income tax returns has been extended to March 31, Comptroller Travis announced tonight.

Mr. Travis stated that this general extension was given for the convenience of tax payers and to relieve the financial strain and that of the several communities by arranging for different periods of payments of the federal and state tax.

"It should be understood, however," explained the comptroller, "that I am without authority under the law to waive the payment of interest on taxes and for that reason any person who avails himself of this extension will be required to pay interest upon the tax due at the rate of six percent yearly from March 15 to the date when the tax is paid."

PLATE GLASS RISES.

Commodity Has Increased 500 Percent in Value During Last Three Years.

Plate glass, in company with numerous other commodities, has experienced a great advance in value during the last few years. Since 1917, this article has risen about 500 percent in price and the tendency is to continue upward every day. Window glass has also risen about the same.

The list price of a piece 30"x36" is $100. About the best price obtainable today in New York is 60 percent off list price or $40, to which must be added boxing, freightage, cost of installation and risk of installation.

Three years ago, the same piece of plate glass could have been obtained in New York for less than $10.

There is a large amount of plate glass in the business places of this city and a not insignificant quantity in private residences. It is an article easily broken and constantly exposed to destruction. Most of the causes of breakage are honest accidents but mischief and malice cause their share.

Oneonta residents should realize the great risk of breakage and the wisdom of carrying plate glass insurance.

TO SHOW CAUSE TODAY.

Why Johnson Should Not Be Re-instated as Superintendent of Water.

Judge Kellogg at chambers here today will hear a case of no little interest in Binghamton. Corporation Counsel Charles G. Blakeslee and Attorney John J. Irving will appear in response to a show cause order to show why William Johnson should not be re-instated as superintendent of water in the city of Binghamton.

The position is now held by Hollis M. Githell who was appointed by the new mayor, Thomas A. Wilson, who held that Johnson did not have any protection from civil service law. Johnson will be represented by Walker & Wilber, it being expected that Mr. Wilber will argue the case.

Corporation Counsel Blakeslee will ask a dismissal of the order on the ground that the second class cities law and numerous court rulings hold that the position is appointive, not term running during the pleasure of the appointive officer, and therefore cannot be continuous under the civil service.

Sustains Malandrino Award.

The appellate division has passed down a decision this week affirming unanimously the award made by the New York Workmen's Compensation commission upon the much-contested claim of Joe Malandrino of this city.

Malandrino lost an eye while employed as a section man by the Southern New York Power and Railway corporation, but while engaged on the job the accident some distance from the tracks shoveling gravel from a farmer's gravel bank, for use in tamping ties.

The opinion of the court, written by Justice Woodward, declares that at the time of injury claimant's employment was so far removed from actual interstate commerce that the federal statutes regulating interstate commerce did not deprive this claimant of the relief given by this state to workmen in hazardous occupations outside of interstate commerce. Hon. George L. Becker was Malandrino's attorney.

DEATH OF GEORGE T. RUSSELL.

Respected Resident of Colliers Dies Friday after Brief Illness.

George T. Russell, a well-known farmer and business man of Colliers, died at about 5 o'clock Friday morning, following a shock which he suffered the previous evening and from which he never regained consciousness.

Prior to Thursday evening he had apparently been in the best of health, and his sudden demise was wholly unexpected. The funeral will be held at his late home at 2:00 o'clock Monday afternoon. His pastor, Rev. Mr. Caughey of the United Presbyterian church of Oneonta, will officiate, and the body will for the present be placed in the Plains vault.

The deceased was born, September 19, 1868, in Bovina, and was a son of Andrew T. and the late Eliza J. (McLauri) Russell of that place. He was married 25 years ago to Miss Jennie Miller of Bovina, and about 12 years ago moved to Oneonta county, purchasing the large and valuable farm at Colliers which was thereafter his home. For the past two years, in connection with his farming interests, he had conducted the grocery at that place.

Besides his wife and father above named, Mr. Russell is survived by three daughters, Erma, Mildred and Mary, and by three sons, Leroy, Paul and George Vaughn Russell, all of whom reside at home. He leaves also three brothers, Kennedy of Bovina, Gilmore of Oneonta and Samuel Russell of Sacramento, Cal.; and two sisters, Miss Jeanette Russell of Oneonta and Mrs. R. S. Moscript of Whitney's Point.

Mr. Russell was a member for many years of the United Presbyterian church, and on removal to this county united with the church in Oneonta. He was an upright citizen, a loving husband and father and a kind and generous neighbor and friend. By all who knew him his death will be greatly regretted, and heartfelt sympathy will go out to the family in its great bereavement.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. White, 15 Carl street, Binghamton, Friday, a baby girl. Mrs. White is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred N. Clark of this city, and her many friends will be glad to learn that mother and daughter are doing nicely.

HOME FOR "THE CONSTITUTION."

Judge Arnold Negotiates the Purchase of Stanwix Hall Hotel Property.

The following item appearing in the Albany Evening Journal of Friday will be read with interest, mingled perhaps with some surprise, by acquaintances of Judge Lynn J. Arnold in this section of the state:

The Stanwix Hall hotel property at Broadway and Maiden lane was today sold to Law and Order Under the Constitution, Inc., represented by Lynn J. Arnold. The property is assessed at about $100,000 and it was stated the hotel will be used as headquarters for the publication of "The Constitution," a new periodical edited by Mr. Arnold. The sale of the Stanwix hotel property was conducted by Willard M. Douglas.

Ella May Tinklepaugh.

Ella May Tinklepaugh, a native of Bridgewater, Pa., but for the past 20 years a resident of Oneonta, died on Tuesday at the Samaritan hospital in Albany after about four weeks' illness. Death was caused by pneumonia, following a serious attack of influenza. The body was brought Thursday evening to Oneonta, and the funeral, which will be private, will be held at 1 p. m. today at the home of her brother, Leonard Tinklepaugh, 37 Maple street. Dr. C. S. Pendleton will officiate and the body will be placed in the Plains vault for burial later in that cemetery.

The deceased is survived by her father, Peter Tinklepaugh, and by the brother above named, both of Oneonta, by one son, Everett Wasson, and by two sisters, Mrs. Richard Grigg and Miss Lillian Tinklepaugh of Albany. The deceased had for the past year been employed in Troy. Many friends in Oneonta will regret to learn of her demise.

Mrs. E. C. Harrington.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 8 '20 Ed. Moore, Mgr. Oneonta Theatre, Oneonta, N. Y.

Hitchy Koo played to large audience last night and proved to be one of the most delightful musical plays such in Syracuse in many a day. I heartily endorse this production as first class. Entertainment has a real metropolitan cast of comedians and singers and a beautiful chorus.

P. R. Southworth's Plans.

In a recent issue of The Star it was stated that Percy R. Southworth had sold his insurance business and that it was understood that he would embark in the feed business at Maryland with his brother, L. G. Southworth.

In a note to this office Mr. Southworth states that the announcement relative to his future plans is incorrect, that he had no such intentions and that he has no definite plans for the future.

New Matrimonial Idea.

Connecticut has a married couple living apart in two towns, the bride, who has advanced ideas, in one town, and the bridegroom, who has a good job and a big salary, in another. They decided to live in separate establishments and to visit each other over week-ends or run away together, as one of them explains it, for several days whenever the mood seizes them. They have rented a third apartment in New York city, which they will share "in their play time." The bride retains her maiden name and title of Miss. It is her idea that man and wife should not live in the same house, and so get a surfeit of each other.—Boston Globe.

Original "Uncle Sam."
During the revolutionary war there was a man by the name of Samuel Wilson, who was engaged as an inspector of provisions. He was known by his friends as "Uncle Sam." In his work he stamped inspected goods "U. S.," which initials happened to stand for his nickname as well as his government. Thus the two became identical. Uncle Sam as an old man with whiskers was taken from Samuel Wilson.—Exchange.

Elms

No natural Gothic arch compares with that formed by two American elms, where their lofty jets of foliage shoot across each other's ascending curves, to intermingle their showery flakes of green. When one looks through a long double row of these, he beholds a temple not built with hands, fairer than any minster, with all its clustered stems and fluttering capitals, that ever grew in stone.—Holmes.

Maryland an Old State.

"Maryland, My Maryland," was one of the thirteen original states. In 1632 Cecilius Calvert, second Lord Baltimore, received from Charles I a charter conferring on him possession of the territory now forming the states of Maryland and Delaware. Thus he became a sort of feudal lord, in supreme authority over the colony. Maryland had a long list of proprietary and royal governors before it was organized as a state in 1777.

Date of Christ's Birth.

The Christian era, first used by a monk, Dionysius Exiguus, in the year 533 A. D. and adopted by Christian nations at a later period, was intended to begin with the birth of Christ. Dionysius is believed, however, to have made an error in fixing that event in the year of Rome 754 instead of 750. Christ's birth is now considered to have taken place in or before the year 4 B. C.

Work With Enthusiasm.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets in every case, compounded mixed with olive oil in his private practice with great success.

They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or darker firm and foods yet they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they clear clouded vision and perk up the spirits. 10c and 25c a box.

Many O'Briens.

A soldier named John J. O'Brien, writing to the war risk bureau about his insurance, failed to give his serial number or policy number, but said the papers would be easy to identify as his wife's name was Mary A. O'Brien. A search through the bureau files disclosed the names of 175 John J. O'Briens, and each of an even 50 of them had a wife named Mary A. O'Brien.

May Use Concrete Coffins.

The corporation of the town of Middleborough, England, is considering the use of concrete coffins in local burial grounds as being lighter and cheaper than those made of wood.

Getting Rid of House Pests.
Cockroaches or the "croton bug" may be held in check by setting out two saucers, one containing a mixture of flour and plaster paris and the other filled with water. The mixture should be four parts plaster of paris and one part of flour. Badly infested apartments may be thoroughly ridged of this pest by fumigating with hydrocyanic acid gas.

Factory Enlarged—Production Doubled to Meet Increasing Popularity of Cole Aero-EIGHT

DURING 1919 only a fraction of the demand for Cole Aero-EIGHTS could be supplied, despite the fact that it was the largest production year which the Cole Motor Car Company had ever had. With the expansion of the factory to twice its former size, this production of Aero-EIGHTS will be more than doubled in 1920.

Though this will enable many motorists to own Cole Aero-EIGHTS who never before have been able to enjoy that privilege, several thousand unfilled orders carried over from 1919, must be accorded preferential deliveries during the early months of the present year.

Hence, all who now contemplate the purchase of Cole Aero-EIGHTS are urged to place their orders without delay, indicating the date of delivery desired, so that equitable distribution of the product may be made and prompt deliveries assured.
